Foreword

As we are about to leave behind us fond memories of years of work and play in school, we, the class of '44, present this final result of our abilities and efforts. We have endeavored to enumerate the various activities and accomplishments of the classes in the past years. To our Alma Mater may be credited the realization of our standards and ideals.

Dedication

Professor Carl R. Koch, Supervising Principal of the Orwigsburg Public Schools, came to us in the year 1943. In this short period of time, we have already felt the impress of his dynamic personality. Many new channels of interests and opportunities have been afforded to us through his efforts. He has made possible various clubs and many extra curricular activities. We have come to look forward to his encouragement and guidance. He has aided materially and spiritually, in the advancement of our schools. His fine sense of sportsmanship, and his appreciation of the finer things of life have been definite forces in the molding of our characters. His splendid accomplishments and exemplary character are indeed the criterion by which we shall judge our future achievements.

It is with sincere appreciation and affection that we dedicate this yearbook to Professor Carl Koch.

MR. CARL R. KOCH
Supervising Principal
of Orwigsburg Public Schools

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1944

We believe, as did Diogenes, that the foundation of every state is the education of its youth. As students of this school you have enjoyed the stimulus of that touch of mind upon mind, which, with the right response, enlarges personality and lifts to higher levels of thought and action. You have had the privilege of becoming acquainted with your fine social heritage—a heritage of liberty and law, of science and art, of language and literature, of morals and religion. One more thread is added to the warp, and we pause only to begin wider fields of accomplishment.

For all of us a great task lies ahead—A task that demands us to take increased devotion to that cause for which American men and boys everywhere are giving their last full measure of devotion. You have been taught the value of knowledge, adequate preparation, a trained mind, a healthy body, moral character, and a perseverance that triumphs over difficulties. We are assured that in this great crisis now before us, you will be found faithful and equal to the occasion.

My associations with you as teacher and principal have culminated in an inspiring and cherished friendship. It can best be expressed by these lines which I wish to share with you:

It's the human touch in this world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine,
That means far more to the fainting heart
Than shelter or bread or wine.
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er
And bread lasts only a day
But the touch of a hand and the sound of a voice
Sing on in the soul alway.

Your friend and Principal,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, appearing to read "D. M. Arch". The signature is fluid and stylized, with large loops and a long, sweeping tail that extends to the right.

In Memory of Professor Smith

It is with deep regret that we note the passing of Mr. Harry W. Smith, who served for a number of years as a member of the Board of Education of the Orwigsburg Public Schools, and who has, during all of his life, been interested in youth and education.

Mr. Smith was born in Tremont Township, April 1, 1880.

He was graduated from the Donaldson High School in 1894, from the Lykens High School in 1895, and from Dickinson College in 1905.

From 1895-1901 he taught in the Frailey Township High School. After graduation from Dickinson College he taught for one year in Dickinson Preparatory School. In 1906 he became Supervising Principal of the Orwigsburg Public Schools, which position he held until 1927.

He served for many years as President of the Executive Committee of the Schuylkill County Directors Association. In 1937 he was elected to the Presidency of this association, in which capacity he served until his death.

Retirement of Mrs. Haeseler

Mrs. Jennie Haeseler was a member of the first graduating class of Orwigsburg High School in 1892. She received instruction in courses conducted by Keystone State Normal School and State College. She likewise had instruction in a special Chautuqua course. Her career of teaching began in 1894. She taught the Third, Fourth and Fifth Grades for a period of three years until her marriage. After a period of years she returned to the teaching profession. She has for many years been a teacher of English in the elementary grades of the Orwigsburg Public Schools.

In twenty-eight years of service, Mrs. Haeseler has impressibly influenced the molding of character of boys and girls who have come under her tutelage. She has instilled the ideals of achievement and the traits of character which are essential in the art of living.

We cherish a profound respect and sincere affection for one who has played so important a part in our lives.

Classes

WALTER ANGSTADT

"Weeny"

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men."

Music—rhythm—skates—Walter. "Weeney" adds humor to the routine of work and play. Special mention must be made of his mathematical ability. Sorry girls, the Army has a priority on him now. Wishes for success and many promotions.

O. H. S.

BARBARA BACHMAN

"Buck"

"Happy go lucky—full of fun, Buck is liked by everyone."

Slap-happy, witty, laughing gayly—this is our "Buck." But beneath this carefree nature there lurks a sense of responsibility. She is the kind of girl who will make an A-1 wife.

FLORENCE BACHMAN

"Floss"

"Life comes only once, so I enjoy it."

Floss is fun-loving, ready and eager for everything, and sparkling with joy of living. She combines fun with hard work, and success will surely follow.

PAUL CORRELL

"Burlap"

"He is so quiet that his many talents lie dormant."

The very essence of gentlemanliness, Paul is quite an asset to his class. Reserved, diligent and considerate, his popularity is a natural consequence. Paul is one of our classmates who is serving in the U. S. Army.

Seniors

MARY DEGLER

"Marv"

"Quiet appearing, disclosing no clue of the merry nature known to but few."

Cool, pretty, sophisticated and capable with a quiet sense of humor . . . these are Mary's qualities which are sure to aid her nobly in a nursing career. Her future will certainly be interesting.

RUTH DEGLER

"Rooster"

"A girl who in her quiet way is easy-going, day by day."

Dark hair, black eyes and a quiet smile equal Ruth. She likes to have a rollicking good time and is always the planner of parties. She contemplates marriage as her career.

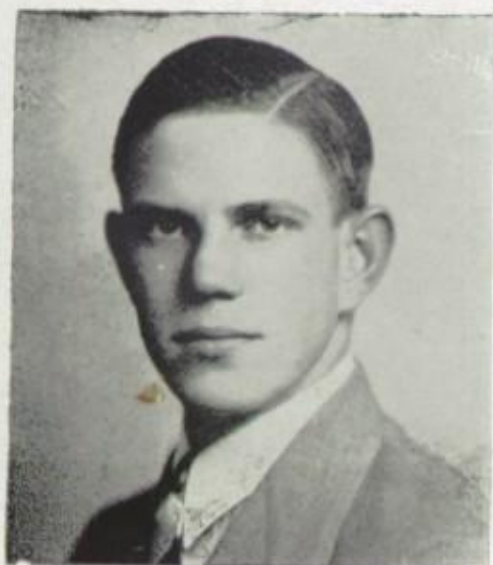

HORACE FISHER

"Skunky"

"Not too serious, not too gay, but a rare good fellow in his own way."

A bright future awaits Horace. He diverts his energy to school work. When hunting season draws nigh, Horace is ready, for he is quite a sportsman. We wish him good luck in his ambition as a policeman.

GEORGE FOOSE

"Foosey"

"If thou seekest a manly youth behold him here."

Bolsterous, confident and a hearty "back-slapper" means none other than "Foosey." In his capacity as president of the Senior class, he is quite authoritative. With Marion's guidance and his resourceful nature, he will "make the grade."

O. H. S.

ELNA HEIM
"General"

"For she is just the quiet kind whose nature never varies."

A reserved, pleasing disposition that makes everyone her friend is Elna's asset. She is a girl who builds up the morale of service men with her letters. Her future is undecided, but we feel sure that she will succeed.

CATHERINE HEISER
"Shorty"

"A quiet maid with an ever willing hand to do."

Catherine has an infectious laugh, is amiable, dependable . . . everything one likes to find in a girl. She may often be seen carrying roller skates, heading for the rink. Her jolly disposition will be a determining factor in her future as a secretary.

MARION HEISER
"Maggie"

"A bashful maiden, meek and mild, with ne'er a word or action wild."

Marion will be remembered for her understanding, steady temperament, and subtle sense of humor. She is one of the conservative members of the class. She believes implicitly in the motto, "A woman's place is in the home."

GEORGE KAUFFMAN
"Oscar"

"You think he looks quiet, look again!"

A mustache and presto! we have Clark Gable. Pearly teeth, black, wavy hair, personality plus make "Oscar" a favorite of both girls and boys. He will soon be claimed by the draft board.

Seniors

VIVIAN KEPNER

"Flipper"

"I like to laugh—I like to play; I can always find something to say."

Horses, farms, milk and red trucks are the chief delights in Vivian's life. It is not unusual to see "Flib" become hysterical when even the "corniest" jokes are told. She is happiest when she is on four wheels.

SHIRLEY KIMMEL

"Squirt"

"She's a happy gal with work to do, she'll help you out and see you through."

What Shirley lacks in quantity she possesses in quality—jovial, witty, humorous, amiable. Judge not from these adjectives that the maxim, "All play and no work," applies to her, for she is studious, intelligent and quite talented—a great combination of Frankie Carle and Einstein.

JEAN KOCH

"Kochie"

"Another poet to bring us fame 'We know her when'—will be our claim."

Roses, moonlight and a Pontiac add up to our Jean. As a poetess, we must admit she has great possibilities. Her amiable disposition and courtly manners are the secrets of her charm.

BERYL LEE

"Jeep"

"Some think the world was made for fun and frolic, and so do I."

Beryl leads a balanced life of work and play. Efficient in her capacity as treasurer, she has been indispensable to the class. Her favorite pastimes are skating and making mischief. Our class has chosen her as one of its cheerleaders.

ELIZABETH MAROTTE

"Bessy"

"For what she thought, she said."

Tall, blonde and not quite twenty-one, Bess is a striking asset to our class. Her frequent arguments stimulate our class to action. She has not yet decided what her life's work will be but it will be in medicine. Good luck!

ARLEAN MILLER

"Butch"

"Give me the liberty to argue freely, above all other liberties."

A dominating character . . . versatile, athletic, and energetic . . . these are some of the reasons "Butch" has become a leader of our class. She has great dramatic ability although her efforts will be directed through the channels of a nursing career as a future.

JACK MILLER

"Jackie"

"Oh! Why must life all labor be?"

A Casanova with blonde, wavy hair. Girls and Chemistry tests are Jack's chief sources of agitation. His proficiency as a mathematician will be a detriment in his climb towards success.

RAE MILLER

"Frenchy"

"True to her work, her word, her friends."

Parlez-vous francais? Oui, most assuredly. Rae is one of our best French students. She is dependable, exact, and diligent. Such qualities will assure her success in future undertakings.

Seniors

ELLEN NEISWENDER

"Ellie"

"The hand that made her fair, hath made her good."

"The lily maid of Astolat" with a disposition to match her petite stature combine to make Ellen a charming young miss. Her affections center upon a first class private in the U. S. Army. Domesticity is probably her future.

GRACE NEISWENDER

"Neisy"

"The skill of an artist is a treasure rare."

With her artistic ability, Grace is destined for a promising future. In the drawings which have beautified the school we have many proofs of her talent. Her jolly disposition and studious application are enviable traits. Grace intends to attend art school.

WILMA PEISCHL

"Willy"

"She's full of life, she's full of fun. Just try to find a nicer one."

A far away look in her eyes means "Willy" is "over the waves" with a certain Merchant Mariner. Long black hair, green eyes and even temperament will aid her in overcoming the obstacles of primary teaching.

ELLEN REED

"Speedy"

"For she has love for one, Friendship for many, Good will for all."

Another blonde beauty to our credit. Immaculate, effervescent, bubbling over with joy . . . This is Ellen. Could it be that the bus line has reduced its rates to Schuylkill Haven? We predict that Ellen will be the first to tie matrimonial bonds.

O. H. S.

JOHN RHOADES

"Rhoadsy"

"Keeps the girls out of his head
Does his lessons and goes to bed."

John is another roller skating enthusiast. His quiet, cooperative nature has made many friends for him. Because of his ability as a chemist he will probably be another "wizard of Menlo Park."

KATHRYN SHEIPE

"Katie"

"Flirtation in her every glance."

A future nurse who qualifies with patience, amiability, and graciousness. Katie enjoys roller skating and dates with a certain Junior boy. This is "our Katie."

GEORGE SHOENER

"Sunny"

"Take life easy, what's the hurry?
Never study, never worry."

Red hair, freckles, humor, mischief . . . these are the attributes consigned to the Tom Sawyer of our class. George is always the life of a party. No wonder he is so popular with our boys and girls.

NORMAN STEIN

"Bubber"

"He is just a regular fellow."

Norman well illustrates the manpower shortage—He is the only male in the feminine French class. Lean . . . quiet . . . promising . . . "Bubber." He is a member of the famous "Wolf Patrol" of the Senior Class. He is a future farmer of America.

Alma Mater

Our strong band can ne'er be broken,
Formed in Orwigsburg High
Far surpassing wealth unspoken,
Seal'd by friendship's tie.

Memory's leaflets close shall twine
Around our hearts for aye,
And waft us back, o'er life's broad track,
To pleasures long gone by.

High school life at best is passing,
Gliding swiftly by;
Then let us pledge in word and deed,
Our love for Orwigsburg High.

Chorus

Alma Mater, Alma Mater,
Deep graven on each heart,
Shall be found unwavering true,
When we from life shall part.

Class Song

Tune—Till We Meet Again

O. H. S. we bid thee sad adieu,
As the years roll by we'll think of you;
Friendships tie may never break
Even though our hearts may ache;
To be with you, once more as days of yore
Sharing in vast pleasures that you store;
Oh, that we may anchored be
Evermore with thee.

Class Poem

We are the Seniors of '44,"
And are anxious for what our future has in store;
Upon completion our High School course,
Leaving our friends brings remorse.

In our Freshman Year, we had "Idylls of the king,"
And when we were Sophomores, we learned how to sing.
As Juniors, we had Math and Health;
In P. O. D., as Seniors, we had the control of wealth.

Mr. Koch came to us in our Junior Year-
We all agreed that he had no other peer.
To Miss Mattern, we all owe a lot;
As anyone can tell us who before us has trod.

Mr. Walborn taught us Algebra and Plane;
And teaching us language was on Miss Drumheller a strain;
Mrs. Barr took us up the scale;
Until we knew our valences Mr. Webb was quite pale.

To students and teachers, we bid adieu-
Hoping you have liked our entire crew.
Since the time has drawn nigh,
We say farewell to Orwigsburg High.

Class Motto

To-day well lived
Makes every yesterday
A dream of happiness,
And every to-morrow
A vision of hope.

Class History

It has often been said that history has a peculiar way of repeating itself. Therefore, the history of this class must, in some respects, be like the history of classes which have gone before.

As a Freshman Class we soon discovered that High School work necessitated sincere application and hard work. If, however, we sometimes set aside the more important opportunities, and the remote goals, for the more immediate pleasures of school life, the cause must be ascribed to the general exuberance of youth.

It was during this year that we began our studies in foreign languages, science, and advanced mathematics. Commencement at the termination of the second semester signified our promotion to the Tenth Grade.

As Sophomores we gained new prestige. In this year the gaps made by lost classmates were filled by new members. Our introduction to the study of the classics broadened our culture and prepared us for more advanced forms of literature. We began to appreciate the novelties of a newly-opened world of knowledge.

In our Junior year we experienced the friendship and tutelage of a new supervising principal, Professor Carl Koch. We were privileged to be the first class under his instruction in American history. The annual Junior party met with great success. Three classmates, Arlin Frantz, Harry Horn, and Emerson Kauffman entered various branches of the service of the United States.

In our last year as pompous Seniors we enjoyed the advantages of volley ball teams, club activities, and a school orchestra. We received instruction in Chemistry from a new faculty member, Mr. Webb. An operetta was presented under the supervision of Mrs. Barr. We ventured upon the publication of a year book. Several of our members, Walter Angstadt and Paul Correll, were inducted into the armed forces.

We stand now as young men and women, ready to take our place in the world. We shall always be appreciative of the cultural advantages afforded us through the efforts of the faculty and members of the administration.

Class Prophecy

Several Seniors, rumaging through the stockroom one day, found a wooden box covered with dust. Evidently it was one article which had escaped the Janitor's eye. Through the layer of dust, an inscription, carved in small letters was discovered.

"This box contains a Crystal Ball,
Whose powers are huge, but size is small;
Advising those who wish to read,
To do it well or not at all."

These verses challenged. The discoverers, possessing an inquisitive mind, hastened to make the news known to their classmates. Upon revealing the facts of finding the mysterious box and reading the verses, the class decided to view the inside. The President opened the box and brought forth a Crystal Ball no larger than a baseball. Examining it, he said that a scene was forming. Upon hearing this, and knowing, or having heard of, the prophetic nature of Crystal Balls, all gathered around while the President revealed what he saw.

"1969"

"I see an azure sky, dotted with billowy white clouds; the sun is shining brightly — Now a bright light appears — Is it a comet? Is it a bird? Ah no,—it is the reflection of the sun on the fuselage of a huge silver bird — a transport plane — Looking closer I see the pilot flying his scheduled route from New York to California. Glancing through the cabin door, I see a host of familiar faces—John Rhoades and His Roller Trio — 'Flos' Bachman, Beryl Lee, and 'Viv' Kepner, accomplished skaters who are on their way to California to star in a picture 'Rollin In the Dromin'. The ship has struck an air pocket and the passengers are beginning to look a bit patriotic—but the back compartment opens and whom do I see? It is 'Katie' Sheipe R. N., who is opening a window to cure their sickness. The plane is losing altitude and now makes a landing at an airport in Chicago. The passengers leave the plane and board a bus. The driver is taking them on a sightseeing tour. He is saying something — 'To the right you see "La Chicagoan," newest hotel in the vast city of hotels; note how it leans. It is a copy of the Leaning Tower of Pisa, and has been designed by Monsieur Waltier Angstadier. To the left you see the famous Chicago Opera House, a branch of the Metropolitan, where the famous tenor, George Foosetta, is singing the famous tenor aria from Act 1 Scene 11 of "Lucia." To the front you see J. J. Astorix's (Horace Fisher's) famous Fur Department Store. To the rear you see — Sorry, we must hurry; plane leaves shortly. The bus is returning to the air field and now the passengers are boarding the plane. It takes off and flies toward the horizon.

"The scene is changing. I see a thriving metropolis dotted with church spires, schools, and homes of various architectural designs. Looking into the parsonage of one of the churches, I see the minister, Rae Miller, performing a marriage ceremony.

"This sight quickly fades away and I see the open country. A farm-house here, another there, a little red schoolhouse and a lumberyard. The school bell rings—children march in and the teacher reads the opening exercises. Who is the teacher? It is our own Shirley Kimmel who married the owner of the lumber yard and devoted her time to teaching, and her spare time to lumbering.

“Many miles away another farm — chickens here, chickens there, chickens everywhere. The proprietor? George Shoener. Speeding down the road comes a huge produce truck laden with fresh fruits and vegetables. Painted on the door in large letters is ‘Stein’s Produce.’ Following the truck, I see it stop at a large grocery store where the manager, Jack Miller, is impatiently waiting for the goods to be delivered.

“Again the scene fades and I see the waterfront. A ship is anchored in the port and the captain is standing on the bridge. Although his hair is streaked with gray, his adventures and years of service have been rewarded, for he is captain of his own ship.

“Now, a city — A large knitting mill. The machinery is humming, a group of laborers wish to see the employer. The secretary, Catherine Heiser, takes them into the office where the President, Paul Correll, listens attentively to their complaints. Glancing through the plant I see an emergency room where Mary Degler, R. N. is treating a man’s hand, which evidently was caught in the machinery. Farther down the halls I see a room with several secretaries typing reports. Among them Ruth Degler and Jean Koch.

“The scene fades and I see a strange land filled with strange color. Thatched houses with no modern appliances — People are walking through the streets but many are falling from a disease which has struck the village. An American nurse moves quickly here and there helping the afflicted. She turns, and I see Arlean Miller who has been in the Orient for several years.

“The scene changes and another takes its place. I see a modern school building with dozens of rooms. In the primary department I see children gathered around an attractive school ‘marm,’ Wilma Peischel. Looking into another room I see drawings decorating the walls; the art teacher, Grace Neiswender, is teaching her Freshman Class the fundamentals of art. In another room I see Elizabeth Marotte instructing her students in laboratory technique.

“Now the scene is changing. I see beautiful homes scattered through the states with large terraces and children playing in the sunlight. Our classmates, Barbara Bachman, Ellen Reed, Marion Heiser, Elna Heim and Ellen Neiswender are leading domestic lives. The scene fades and nothing more is visible to my eye.” Thus the President ceased the prophesying.

The bell rang for dismissal but the Seniors remained in their home room thinking of what their President had seen and told them, wondering whether some day these scenes might come true. The Crystal Ball was wrapped in its cloth and carefully put into the wooden box and returned to the stockroom where the Seniors had found it. If some day, some future class should find it, we, the Class of ‘44,” earnestly entreat them to return it to its place, for it is most valuable, and furnished us with a most enjoyable afternoon.

Class Will

We, the class of '44 of Orwigsburg High School, being of sound mind and body do hereby lay down our last will and testimony:

To our teachers we will the acknowledgement that they have played an important part in forming our sterling characters (if they care to remember.)

We as individuals, will the following:

Walter Angstadt mathematical ability to future engineers.
Barbara Bachman cheerfulness for the home front morale.
Florence Bachman chewing gum to Art Murphy.
Paul Correll civilian clothes to his brother.
Mary Degler headaches as class secretary to her successor.
Ruth Degler many admirers (male) to Uncle Sam.
Horace Fisher crime fighting inclination to the F. B. I.
George Foose resonant voice to "der Fueher" who sadly lacks confidence.
Elna Heim morale building technique for the Navy.
Marion Heiser domestic inclination to girls of the Freshman Class.
Catherine Heiser enormous appetite to all anemics.
George Kauffman hair to Prof. Koch.
Vivian Kepner giggles to anyone who wishes to claim them.
Shirley Kimmel volley ball serves to Joe Dimaggio.
Jean Koch quietness as a remedy for all nervous persons.
Beryl Lee roller skates to another great patron of "Greenies."
Elizabeth Marotte slimness to all persons embarrassed with obesity.
Arlean Miller heart to Villanova.
Jack Miller all his girl friends to future Casanovas.
Rae Miller large French vocabulary to Junior Mademoiselles.
Grace Neiswender drawings to the Art Club.
Ellen Neiswender anything but "Bill."
Wilma Peischl herself to Fritz.
Ellen Reed bus tickets to Schuylkill Haven to Miss Drumheller.
John Rhoades cowboy songs to Gene Autrey.
Kathryn Sheipe melodious voice to some other Dinah Shore.
George Shoener unique dance steps to Fred Astaire.
Norman Stein love for soil to 4H club.

Activities

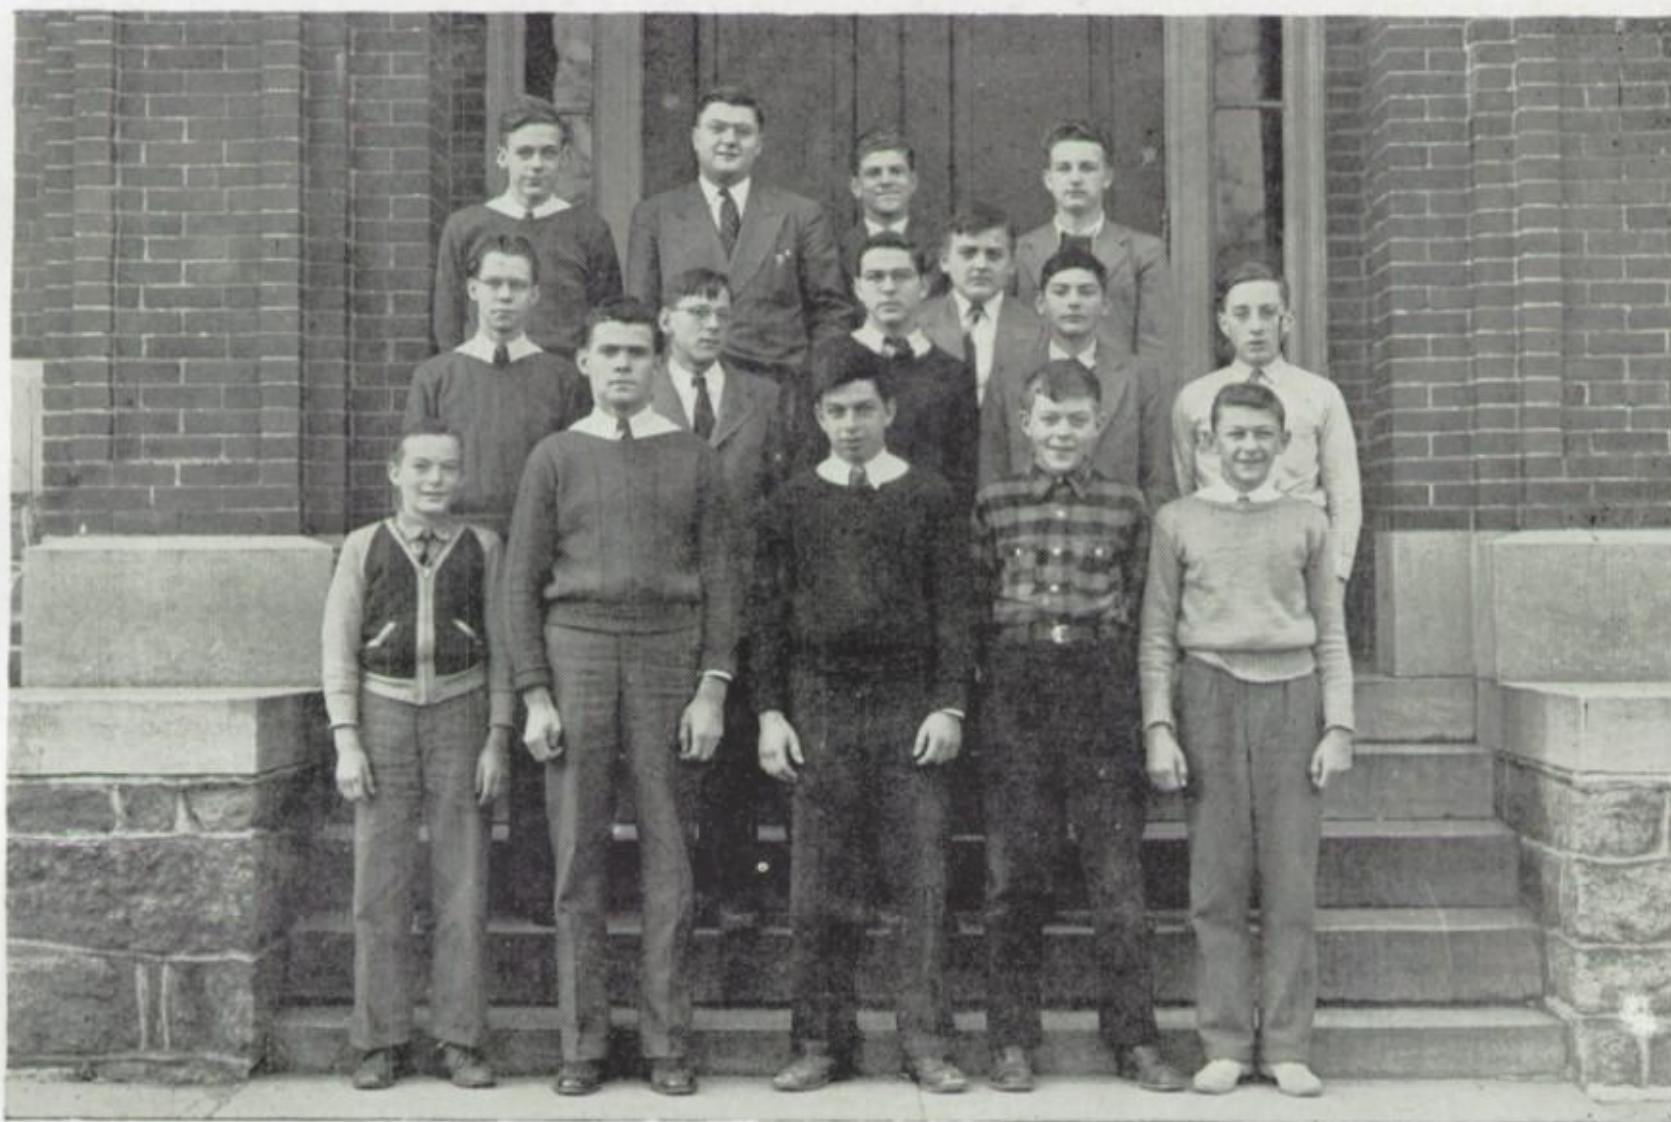

ART CLUB

Top Row: Arlin Fegley, LeRoy Diefenderfer, Faye Koch, Douglas Ward, Ellen Neiswender, Arlin Koch, Arthur Murphy.

Bottom Row: Laudie Wosochlo, Elizabeth Fetherolf, Jean Koch, Agnes Heim, Shirley Reed, Grace Neiswender.

One of the outstanding clubs of the school was the Art Club, under the direction of Professor C. R. Koch. The activities of this club challenged and developed latent abilities of its members in the direction of art, and added materially in beautifying the various classrooms. The crayon drawings on paper plates forming the border above the blackboards received much favorable comment from all visitors to the school. The drawings, appropriate to the season, which appeared from time to time on the boards in the auditorium, were appreciated by the student body, and gave evidence of what has been accomplished in a short time.

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUB

The Chess and Checker Club was under the direction of Mr. Webb. In this club, as the name indicates, the members enjoyed the games of chess and checkers. This is, as are all the other clubs, an innovation in our High School. Participation develops initiative, alertness, and concentration. In addition, it affords wholesome recreation.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Second Row: Arlean Miller, Wilma Peischl, Janet Greenawalt, Margaret Zulick, Joan Lynch, Florence Alspach.

Third Row: Betty Heim, Mary Haeseler, Betty Wagner, Marie Hoy, Darline Miller, Evelyn Deibert, Orva Reed.

The Senior Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Drumheller, was established for the purpose of bringing to life dramatic ability that for many years has lain dormant in a surprising number of students who help to compose the student body. Shakespeare, the greatest of English dramatists, in "The Merchant of Venice", calls life, "A stage where every man must play a part; consequently, the club attempted to assist its members to develop poise, self-confidence, proper expression and quality of voice in its members. The emphasis was placed on clear, slow, and distant speaking. The members served as critics as well as participants in skits. Any member of the club who delivered a selection was chosen for meeting the requirements of good expression, enunciation, poise, and naturalness. Throughout the year the club has given an Assembly Program and has had representatives on several programs. An additional purpose of the Dramatic Club was to produce better Assembly Programs, Class Plays, and Commencement Programs.

Vice-President	Frances Smith
Secretary	Dorothy Gwynn
Treasurer	Mary Haeseler

JUNIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Top Row: Linwood Bartholomew, Howard Kriner, John Wagner,
Miss Ketner

Bottom Row: Sarah Haeseler, Elizabeth Moyer, Kathryn Moyer, Doris Shearn.

Second Row: Jean Fessler, Rebecca Folk, June Fisher, Jane Ahrensfield.

The Junior Dramatic Club was under the supervision of Miss Ketner. This Club helped to prepare its members for more intensive study in the Senior Dramatic Club. In the study of poems and prose selections, the members were taught poise and eloquence of speech. Throughout the year the Junior Dramatic Club presented some very interesting and instructive assembly programs.

President	Catherine Rutter
Vice-President	Doris Shearn
Secretary	Rebecca Folk
Treasurer	John Wagner

THE HIKING CLUB

Top Row: Horace Fisher, George Foose, Paul Faust, John Shoener, Percy Wessner.
 Second Row: Howard Hartranft, Norman Riegel, Garnell Anderson, William Knott, James Shoener.
 Third Row: Jay Berger, Charles Berger, Joseph Raring, Lawrence Deibert, Faye Harris, Theodore Rudloff, Miss Lebengood.
 Fourth Row: Muriel Ward, Jeanette Kriner, Lorraine Kærlick, Joan Ashcraft, Jane Kimmel, Betty Koch, Dorothy Heisler, Eva Rusinki, Rose Bair.

The Hiking Club, under the supervision of Miss Lebengood, has proved a successful venture. The boys and girls of this club had a delightful time seeing nature in all its beauties. On rainy days the members of the club remained indoors and studied bird and animal life. What this club had added to health and interest cannot be overestimated.

KNITTING AND CROCHETING

Top Row: Theresa Heim, Mary Degler, Miss Weaver, Catherine Heiser, Rae Miller.

Second Row: Blanche Heiser, Kathryn Sheipe, Ruth Degler, Jean Shoener, Vivian Kepner, Florence Bachman.

Third Row: Beryl Lee, Marie Seltzer, Dorothy M. Moyer, Elna Heim, Ellen Reed, Marion Heiser.

The Knitting and Crocheting Club, under the direction of Miss Weaver, has been unusually successful in awakening interest and developing ability along the lines for which the club was organized. The members of this club were especially interested in crocheting lace and fascinators, and have displayed some beautiful articles. However, the most outstanding achievement was the afghan for the Red Cross, for it was made from "odds and ends" of wool which otherwise would not have been utilized.

President	Kathryn Sheipe
Vice-President	Marion Heiser
Secretary	Catherine Heiser
Treasurer	Dorothy A. Moyer

SEWING CLUB

Top Row: Frances Orwigs, Miss Mattern, Barbara Bachman.

Second Row: Virginia Freeman, Margaret Faust, Betty Werneer, Erla Smith, Christine Otruba, Jean Koch, Elizabeth Marotte.

Third Row: Catherine Holzer, Arlene Loy, Esther Kamp, Jean Gregory, Joan Wagner, Patricia Freed.

Fifth Row: Cynthia Zulick, Anna Louise Eby, Carol Schaeffer, Georgine Mengel, Janet Gruver, Jean Rarick, Geraldine Boyer.

Under the direction of Miss Mattern the Sewing Club proved to be very successful. This was the first year for a Sewing Club in the High School. Many pretty things were made, among which were bed jackets, aprons, skirts, blouses and embroidered covers and scarfs. Three outstanding articles were the dress made by Georgine Knittle, the needle-point made by Elizabeth Marotte, and the patch-work quilt, by Barbara Bachman. The pupils were given an opportunity to display some of their work at "Open House."

President		Barbara Bachman
Secretary		Elizabeth Marotte
Treasurer		Laura Gerhard

THE WOODCRAFT CLUB

Top Row: George Porambo, Burd Zimmerman, Donald Freed, Mr. Walborn.

Third Row: Wm. Degler, Theodore Heim, Arlin Heiser, Stanley Pryzbeck, Glenn Kramer.

Bottom Row: Jay Rae, Gerald Berger, Edward Bachman, Ronald Sterner, Gerald Schappell, Kenneth Hartranft.

The Woodcraft Club, taught by Mr. Walborn, has been very successful in its accomplishments. Throughout the year its members, including 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th Grade pupils, have built many useful articles including bookends, benches, clothes hangers, bird houses, model airplanes, tables, wood-cut pictures, chests, and stage steps. The members have learned to use several tools of which they previously knew little. The club has developed latent abilities in its members. The opinion of those who met weekly is that it should be continued in future years.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Top Row: Ellen Reed, Grace Neiswender, Rae Miller, Marie Seltzer, Kathryn Sheipe, Mrs. Barr.

Second Row: Arlean Miller, Wilma Peischl, Dorothy M. Moyer, Mary Degler, Catherine Heiser, Elizabeth Marotte.

Third Row: Beryl Lee, Vivian Kepner, Florence Bachman, Elna Heim, Betty Heim, Jean Shoener, Barbara Bachman.

Fourth Row: Jean Koch, Darline Miller, Betty Wagner, Marie Hoy, Ella Heim, Ruth Degler, Frances Smith, Alice Fisher.

Fifth Row: Jane Bartholomew, Marion Heiser, Elaine Alspach, Dorothy Gwynn, Jean Koch, Evelyn Deibert, Wanda Kimmel, Shirley Reed.

Bottom Row: Laudie Wosochlo, Faye Harris, Christine Otruba, Georgine Knittle, Geraldine Boyer, Mary Haeseler, Orva Reed, Ellen Neiswender, Shirley Kimmel, Dorothy A. Moyer.

The Girls' Glee Club consisted of the girls of Tenth, Eleventh, and Twelfth Grades under the supervision of Mrs. Barr. Through their association with this organization, members have come to appreciate the cultural value of finer music. The various programs of the year sponsored by the school, have been made all the more delightful by the appearance of the club. Their fine industry and cooperation have made all the more delightful by the appearances of the club. Their fine industry and cooperation have made possible the production of an operetta. They well illustrate the adage, "Music Hath Charms."

BOY'S GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club was under the direction of Mrs. Barr. It met an hour each week during which time the boys were instructed in the fundamentals of music and music appreciation. Through the year the club has participated in Assembly Programs. This year a light operetta, "We're For America," by Marian Hall was produced and the boys were selected from the Glee Club, adding materially to the cast.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Top Row: Herbert Fritz, Rodman Knott, Shirley Kimmel, Harold Boyer, Keith Rizzuto, Edward Alspach, James Miller, Mrs. Barr, Richard Lee.

The school orchestra, recognized as one of the most essential features of the school, has, through its diligent practice and efforts, gained the applause and commendation of the community. Although it has been only recently organized, the group has steadily improved and its splendid performances have been testimony to this fact. It has furnished entertainment on the weekly assembly programs, "Open House" night, and other social events of the school. Its growth and development have been the pride and delight of the school. The orchestra was under the direction of Mrs. Barr.

The Class of 1944 presented the annual play, "Corporal Jeep", November 16, 17 under the direction of Mrs. Barr. Through the combined efforts of the directress, the cast, the stage manager, the prompter and the cooperative public the production proved to be a tremendous success.

The action of the play begins when Uncle Cyrus Scaggs is enjoying his secluded life in Old Mexico. He does not want company, but he gets it. Corporal Jeep and Captain Paul Clark of the United States Army are sent to his vicinity on a secret mission. Posing as archeologists they are soon in laugh provoking trouble. At the same time an eloping couple, Jack and Pat Lance, the irate parents of the bride, Elsa and Sidney Budge, Elsa's maid, Susan Quattle, Phyllis DeReamer, Jack's ex-girlfriend bring on further complications both laughable and breathtaking.

A sinister foreign agent, Teresa, serving as housekeeper in the household, and El Lobo, the wolfman, add mystery to the play.

A girl, Elena, finds her vacation turned into high adventure when she discovers El Lobo to be the real Cyrus Scaggs, and the latter and Teresa to be foreign agents.

At the conclusion of the play Elena and Paul Clark, and Susan and Corporal Jeep discover mutual attractions for each other.

The Girls' Volley Ball Team was formed this year under the supervision of Miss Mattern. There were five teams.

Games were played during the Health Period between the Senior, Junior and the Sophomore girls. Interclass games were played between the different teams after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays. A game was played in October under the supervision of Mr. Koch, Mr. Webb, and Mr. Walborn at Greenawalt's Hall between the best players. The boys were the winners.

This has been the first year for girls' volley ball; but they have shown a steady improvement.

Third Row: John Rhoades, William Knott, Edwin Gerhard, Harold Boyer, Richard Rutter, Jack Miller.

Fourth Row: Lawrence Shoener, Oliver Reed, Walter Greenawalt, Norman Stein, Arlin Koch, Horace Fisher.

Many enjoyable games of volley ball were played on the school ground. Throughout all the upper four grades the boys were chosen and divided into groups. There were five boys on each team. The boys practiced after school and once a week during school hours. It is generally conceded that the Seniors had the best team. The Seniors won most of the games they played. A team composed of Mr. Koch and Mr. Webb was unbeaten until they challenged the Seniors. To top off the season, several games were played indoors at "Greenie's Hall". Under the supervision of Mr. Koch, Mr. Walborn, and Mr. Webb, all the teams advanced rapidly.

BASKETBALL

Top Row: William Knott, Mr. Webb, Theodore Heim.

Second Row: Lawrence Shoener, Glenn Kramer, George Shoener, Clair Stoyer, Robert Rutter.

After getting off to a poor start coach Webb and his "fighting Burgers" managed to come through with a record of ten victories and ten losses. The team lost many games by close scores and every game had its thrilling moments. The two most impressive victories of the team were those over Tremont and Schuylkill Haven. The team's success is due mainly to the expert coaching of Mr. Webb. The team wishes to thank Mr. Webb for the time and effort he has given in order to make this year's team a success. The managing chores were capably handled by George Kauffman, William Knott, and Theodore Heim.

The team included the following:

LeRoy Diefenderfer - "Gus", the team's ace point collector, proved to be an important factor in the team's success. "Gus" was high scorer on the team and proved to be a very efficient player. His fine team work helped put much spirit into the boys. Gus' best game was against Pottsville Catholic in which he collected twenty-four points.

Richard Rutter - "Rutzer", who teamed up with Diefenderfer at forward, is considered the most improved player on the squad. "Rutzer's" fighting spirit and shooting ability helped bring the team through to victory in many games.

Willis Berger - "Red", the team's capable captain, proved very valuable because of his excellent strategy in setting up plays. "Red" was considered the best defensive guard on the team. One of his greatest feats was accomplished when he held Tremont's high scoring Butler to a mere eight points. "Red" won the hearts of the fans many times by sinking one-handed shots from mid-court.

Edward Alspach - "Elmer," the only Sophomore on the squad, teamed up with Berger in the back court and proved to be a very aggressive player. "Elmer is noted for his fancy dribbling and expert passing.

Arthur Murphy - "Art", the newcomer to the squad, quickly won a place in the line-up through his excellent playing. "Art" proved very valuable because of his ability to get the ball from the opposition back board, and set up plays. He proved to be a versatile player by displaying his ability in all three positions.

George Shoener - "Gumbo", the only Senior on the team, saw much service, being used mainly in the reserve role. He alternated with Murphy at the center position chiefly.

The other members of the team who show much promise and should see much service next year are Clair "Lefty" Stoyer, Robert "Bob" Rutter, Glenn "Pick" Kramer and Lawrence "Sam" Shoener.

The Junior varsity, also, came through with several inspiring victories. The team contains many promising prospects, among them being: James and John Shoener, Keith Rizzuto, George Correll, Burd Zimmerman, Douglas Ward, Richard McCreight, Lloyd Sheipe and William Heiser.

BASEBALL

After discontinuing baseball for a year Orwigsburg again took up the national sport. Owing to inclement weather the team was slowly organized. With an inexperienced team reporting, Coach Walborn had a great task to perform. There were only three holdovers reporting, those being LeRoy Diefenderfer, George Shoener, and Willis Berger. However, through much practicing and effort Mr. Walborn was able to present a strong team on the field. Those reporting for practice were Douglas Ward, LeRoy Diefenderfer, George Correll, Horace Fisher, William Heiser, Willis Berger, William Degler, Leon Kramer, Glenn Kramer, Clair Stoyer, Donald Freed, Norman Riegel, Edward Alspach, Richard Rutter, Robert Rutter, Lawrence Shoener, Jay Rae, John Shoener, Burd Zimmerman, and George Shoener. Orwigsburg will play an independent schedule this year and at the time of this write-up it is incomplete.

The team wishes to thank Mr. Walborn for the time and effort he has given in order to make the team a success.

CHEERLEADERS

Bottom Row: Dorothy A. Moyer, Frances Smith, Shirley Kimmel, Beryl Lee.

Two Cheerleaders from each of the four upper grades were chosen by the pupils at the beginning of the Basketball season.

Through the ceaseless efforts of these leaders many rousing cheers were originated. Their leading of the cheering section at all of the games aided materially in the boosting of the player's morale.

Each Cheerleader serving one year received a letter at the end of the school term. Those serving the second year, received a bar.

Their services are acknowledged and appreciated by all of the basketball fans.
